BIO

Emmi King isn't your average newcomer — she's a bold presence in the world of female rock. As a singer, songwriter, and multi-instrumentalist, she effortlessly plays drums, guitar, bass, and piano. What's more impressive? Emmi's not just the face of her music; she's the brains and the hands behind it all, composing, performing, and recording every track solo in the studio.

Just a few shows into her live career, Emmi King caught the attention of multi-platinum producer Kerry Brown and Linda Perry, opening for Dorothy (Roc Nation) in the US. Since then, she's shared stages alongside rock legends like Mother's Finest and One Ok Rock, including a memorable performance at the sold-out Columbiahalle in Berlin.

Emmi's live performances span from intimate venues like Sofar Sounds and Arlene's Grocery in New York City to iconic venues like Whisky a Go Go in Los Angeles, where musical legends like The Doors have left their mark.

With clear, distorted guitar riffs and catchy vocals, her sound evokes the nostalgia of a nineties indie film soundtrack. With over 80k followers across platforms, the artist aims to breathe new, refreshing, and energetic life into today's music scene.
